Preliminary Visits

Coultershaw Heritage Site offers FREE preliminary visits for all group leaders and we strongly recommend that a preliminary visit is carried out, when we are open to the public, prior to each time you bring a group. This will enable you to become familiar with the site (and see what changes may have occurred since your last visit), assess any potential risks your group may encounter. A downloadable map of the site is available on the website www.coultershaw.co.uk/learning.

What we offer

Self-led visits

You can arrange with us a self-led visit, supporting information and documents can be downloaded from www.coultershaw.co.uk/learning/ to help you deliver this, and education volunteers can be on hand to assist.

Coultershaw-led visits

A flexible and adaptable programme of activities it can be tailored to your requirements. It is led by our education volunteers and supported by the volunteer stewards.

Staff numbers and group sizes

Every effort has been made to make Coultershaw Heritage Site a safe environment for visitors but we request that groups are adequately supervised and that students move about the site in a safe and orderly manner.

We require a minimum of 2 adults per 16 students.

Volunteer Educators will lead your group, but please note the overall responsibility lies with the school's lead teacher.

Risk Assessment

Health and Safety

We take the safety of our visitors very seriously – all activities have been risk assessed. However, it is the school's responsibility to do a risk assessment prior to your visit. There is always a member of Coultershaw staff that has received first aid training on site but please note that the responsibility for your class remains with the school/college staff and we ask that you equip each field teaching class with a basic first aid kit.

Please provide first aid cover in line with your school's off-site visit policy. If any of the students have any special needs then please let us know in advance. A mobile phone per group would be useful but not essential.

Coultershaw Heritage Site has public liability insurance. The Educational Activities Risk Assessment is on our learning web-page.

Access

The paths around the site are not fully accessible and they may become less usable by the mobility impaired in poor weather. All the buildings are accessible for those with impaired mobility.

However, the lower floor of Pump House is not accessible for wheelchair users.

Please note visitors must keep to the paths indicated on the site map. The driveway between the Warehouse and the Pump House is private and can only be used by coaches to access the Warehouse coach park.

Travel arrangements

Coach parking is located by the Warehouse. On arrival at the site the coach will be met by a volunteer and be guided to the Warehouse coach park.

Facilities

All groups start, and finish, at the learning centre (located in the Warehouse) which has a fully accessible toilet, and a classroom space for up to 30 students. Please note, that there are no toilets on the nature trail.

We ask that all rubbish is taken away.

If the weather is wet the Warehouse can be used to eat lunch, otherwise chairs can be taken to the space just outside the Warehouse.

Cancellation

If you need to cancel please give a two weeks notice if possible. Where a late cancellation happens and a volunteer has travelled to the site to meet the group, the visit fee will be payable.

In the event of inclement weather we have sufficient wet weather facilities to ensure that visits may go ahead with an agreed adaptation to the programme. Very occasionally the rivers day programme can be affected by significant rainfall and particularly high water levels; the programme can be adapted accordingly.
